INTRODUCTION

"The California State University stands as a beacon of excellence and diversity—of people, pedagogy and place—with a singular determination to provide students access to opportunity, leading to transformation of self and society.

We encourage our students and alumni to be passionate, empathetic and forever curious. We ask them to be consequential in their actions, and we look to them to embody the Californian spirit."

Timothy P. White Chancellor, California State University The California State University promotes student success through opportunity and a high-quality education that prepares students to become leaders in the changing workforce, making the CSU a vital economic engine for California.

THE CSU

- Is the nation's largest four-year public university system, with 23 campuses and eight off-campus centers.
- Educates approximately 484,300 students and employs more than 52,000 faculty and staff.
- Features more than 3.4 million living alumni.

OPPORTUNITY

The CSU creates opportunity for the diverse students of California to reach their educational goals and become leading citizens, opening the doors of college to nearly 72,000 additional students since 2010.

QUALITY

The CSU prepares students for success through leading-edge programs, superior teaching and scholarly activity. High-quality academic programs reflect California's current and future workforce demands in emerging fields such as cybersecurity, software engineering, sustainable business and environmental technology.

SUCCESS

The CSU drives California's economy with nearly 120,000 undergraduate and graduate students earning degrees each year and enhances the social fabric of the state and nation through the contributions of its students, faculty, staff and more than 3.4 million alumni.

MASTER PLAN FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

The CSU system was created in 1960 under the California Master Plan for Higher Education. The CSU draws its students from the top third of the state's high school graduates and is California's primary undergraduate teaching institution. Continuing to expand its educational scope and help meet California's workforce demands for skilled professionals, the CSU offers independent doctor of education, doctor of nursing practice and doctor of physical therapy programs at numerous campuses. The doctor of philosophy is also offered through a joint partnership with other public and private universities in California.

INCLUSIVE EXCELLENCE

The CSU strives to create a welcoming environment for all members of the campus communities. This commitment to "Inclusive Excellence" is manifested in students who make up the most ethnically, economically and academically diverse student body in the nation, reaching higher levels of success than ever as completion rates continue to reach all-time highs. The university continues to invest in strategies to close achievement and opportunity gaps for underserved and lowincome students. The CSU is an engine for social mobility as those students earn high quality educations that propel them into higher economic strata.

PREPARING CALIFORNIA'S WORKFORCE

The CSU plays a critical role in providing future leaders with the skills and knowledge they'll need to thrive in the workforce and help drive California's economy. With nearly 120,000 annual graduates, the CSU is the state's greatest producer of bachelor's degrees and drives California's economy in agriculture, information technology, business, hospitality, life sciences, healthcare, public administration, education, media and entertainment.

- For every $1 the state invests in the CSU, the CSU returns $5.43
- The CSU sustains more than 150,000 jobs in the state
- CSU-related expenditures create more than $17 billion in economic activity
- One in 10 employees in California is a CSU graduate
- The CSU awards nearly half of the state's baccalaureates

The CSU reaches out to California's growing underserved communities, offering affordable opportunities to pursue a college degree, enabling students from diverse backgrounds to succeed. More than one-third of CSU students are first-generation college students and the CSU provides more than half of all undergraduate degrees earned by California's Latino, African American and Native American students. Twenty-one of 23 CSUs are currently recognized by the Department of Education as Hispanic Serving Institutions (HSIs), colleges and universities with a Latino student enrollment of at least 25 percent. 150,000 JOBS SUSTAINED BY THE CSU IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

Graduation Initiative 2025 aims to increase graduation rates for all CSU students while eliminating opportunity and achievement gaps. Through this initiative the CSU will ensure that all students have the opportunity to graduate in a timely manner according to their personal goals, positively impacting their future and producing the graduates needed to power California and the nation.

Since its launch in 2016, the initiative has already seen success in bringing 2- and 4-year graduation rates for transfer students and 4- and 6-year graduation rates for first-time freshmen to all-time highs. In 2016–17, the CSU graduated 7,000 additional students above the previous year, resulting in nearly 99,000 undergraduate degrees conferred.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Freshman Students

First-time freshman applicants must meet the standards in each of the following areas:

- Complete specific high school coursework.
- Achieve suitable grades in specified courses and tests.
- Graduate from high school.

Transfer and Graduate Students

The majority of transfer students enter as upper-division transfers and must complete at least 60 semester or 90 quarter units before transferring. Students who have earned an Associate Degree for Transfer will be admitted to the CSU with junior status.

To apply for admissions to graduate or postbaccalaureate studies, a student must:

- Earn a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution with at least a 2.5 grade point average.
- Be in good academic standing, while satisfactorily meeting the professional, personal, scholastic and other standards for graduate study.

APPLYING

Students planning to enter the CSU can apply through the online application tool, Cal State Apply, at CALSTATE.EDU/APPLY.

Due to the large number of applicants, some CSU campuses have higher standards (supplementary admission criteria) for particular majors or for students who live outside the local campus area. Campuses utilize local admission guarantee policies for students who graduate or transfer from high schools and community colleges that are historically served by a CSU campus in that region.

The CSU's operating budget has two main funding sources: the state general fund and student tuition fees. State funding now covers slightly more than half of the CSU's operating costs, with tuition fees making up for the remainder. Auxiliaries and philanthropic support generate additional revenue needed for essential services that supplement state-supported activities.

Responsibility for the CSU is vested in a 25-member Board of Trustees, the majority of whom are appointed by the governor to eight-year terms. Faculty, alumni and two student trustees serve two-year terms. The trustees appoint the chancellor, who is the system's chief executive officer, and the presidents, who are the chief executive officers of their respective campuses and report to the chancellor. The trustees, chancellor and presidents develop systemwide policies.
