

Urban Breakout Notes
June 10, 2009

What kind of urban issues do we think we have an opportunity to address?

- Water banking – how do you keep track of it and how do you address quality issues?
- Water efficiency – need to reduce or reuse wastewater to bypass salt requirements (Davis)
- Stormwater
- Runoff from irrigation- how do collect it, where do you store it, what do you do with it? Concern in Santa Monica is that it goes back into the bay
- Need to figure out collaborative ways to work with water unities. Need to build new water systems, need to reduce the level of the drought or shortages in the future. Our policy is not geared to balancing water supply and demand
- CSU can serve as a neutral body and as a stakeholder.
